8th June

Today school is a hive of industry as we prepare for our Rose Queen celebrations. The Rose Queen is a wonderful tradition that has been celebrated in the village for more than 65 years. Many congratulations go to our retiring Rose Queen Madeleine Lusby who has had a very successful year of fundraising and has raised £470 which will be shared between the Donna Louise Trust, Church and School. I would like to thank her and her family for all of the effort and enthusiasm shown this year - well done!

Our new Rose Queen is Zoe Sanders who will be attended by Hannah Goodyear and Eadie Axson, with Noah Sanders as crown bearer. I wish them all the best of luck. I am sure it will be a lovely service this evening and I hope that lots of you will be able to attend and support an important community tradition. See you at 6pm this evening.

As I am sure you are aware Mr Taylor will sadly be moving on to a new post this summer. We cannot possibly let his nine years of hard work with us go unmarked and we have therefore set up a collection for him. If you wish to contribute please send your donation to the school office marked collection Mr Taylor.

We have noticed recently that some of the packed lunches that children are bringing into school do not have healthy choices. Please ensure that if your child is bringing a packed lunch into school that it does not contain sweets of any variety including lollipops or packets of Haribo type sweets. Can you also remind your child that they should not be sharing their lunch with others.

I have been delighted to see how many children have been arriving at school appropriately dressed for the weather with sunhats and sun cream applied. If you choose to send your child into school with sun cream please ensure that it is in a labelled bottle and that your child knows how much to apply and is confident to apply it independently. Please also make sure that your child understands that they must not share their sun cream with others.

Just a few reminders, our family service takes place on Sunday. Everyone is invited please come along and worship with the school and the community. The service starts at 9:30am. Next week Willow class will lead our Friday worship in church starting at 2:30pm. All are welcome but especially Dads and Grandads as their theme is Fathers Day.
